LAST OPEN SUNDAY

Not Any Better Attended Than Any Other Open Sundays. .

IT WAS A BENEFIT DAY, TOO.

The Gate Receipts Will Go Into the Fund For the Benefit of the Sufferers

Sunday of the world's fair exposition did not show any improvement upon other Sundays in point of attendance, but as nearly all passholders paid the entrance fee of 50 cents, the fund for the benefit of the sufferers from the cold storage fire was increased in a substantial way.

The morning was uncomfortably warm, but a shower at noon cooled the warm, but a shower at noon cooled the atmosphere a few degrees. The pass gates were almost entirely ignored, the holders of the photographic privileges in nearly every instance buying a piece of pasteboard bearing the words, "Admit one, benefit of the sufferers of the cold storage fire." The crowd which the evening was expected to bring out the evening was expected to bring out did not materialize.

The outward appearance of the fair did not differ in any respect from that of last Snnday save for the emblems of mourning on the engine houses and the flags at half mast. Nearly all of the displays made by foreign exhibitors in manufacturers' building were draped while many American exhibits were closed. The greatest number of visitors thronged the art palace, the Krupp gun exhibit and the convent. The Plaisance which always holds the Sunday crowds was a busy place all day day crowds was a busy place all day and impressed upon the concessionaries more firmly than ever the idea that their part of the fair should be kept open.

Music was farnished during the afternoon and evening by the Cincinnati, Chicago and Iowa State bands, this feature of "Heroes' day" being much enjoyed and appreciated by moderately-eized crowds.

Rev. L. P. Mercer of the New Church temple spoke at festival hall during the afternoon on the subject, "How Readest Thou?" The attendance was not large, the warm weather no doubt keeping many away.
Professor Tomlins directed a portion of the Apollo club which saug the hymns and Arthur Maas was at the organ. The platform and pulpit were draped in black. Mr. Mercer took his draped in black. Mr. Mercer took his text from Luke xxv, 26: "And behold a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying 'Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life." He said unto him, 'what is written in the law? how readest thou?"

The sermon was a good one, having, however, but little mention of the he however, but little mention of the he roes of the recent are, except at the close where the speaker enlogized the memory of the dead men and said the occurrence had brought to mind the fact that it was sometimes harder to die than to live. He knew their sonls would rest in peace after the terrible ordeal they had passed through to reach the kingdom of heaven.

A space about 20 feet square in the rotunda of the administration, building directly under the great dome is enclosed by a strong iron fence. Work has begun on a model of the United States treasury at Washington to be made of Columbian coins, and erected within the enclosure. The work will continue several days and when complete a strong force of guards will guard the precious edifice night and day.

The paid admissions during the day were 49,401. It is estimated that the relief fund by concessionaries will amount to $5,000, which added to the proceeds from ticket sales will swell the fund by about $30,000.

More Dissatisfied Visitors. There is war among the reaper and harvest exhibitors at the world's fair. All the mower and harvester exhibitors of the United States with oue single exception have risen in revolt against the plans of John Boyd Thacher, and united in an ultimatum withdrawing their exhibits from competition unless a radical change be made in the program. Trouble has been browing for several days over the announcement on July 8 that the harvesting exhibitors must be prepared for a field trial on July 17 at Wayne, Ills. All the exhib-itors except a Chicago firm have joined in a protest to Mr. Thacher, claiming that field trials are expensive and nusatisfactory, and that insufficient notice has been given.

Monarch Triamph Over the People and the Reichstag Is at Once Closed. Rumors of Trouble in Egypt-Other Foreign Dispatches.

BERLIN, July 17.—The army bill was passed by the reichstag by a majority of 16, the vote standing 201 in favor of the measure to 185 against it. After the bill had finally been adopted the reichstag was declared closed.

The opposition organs contend that the majority of 16 in favor of the bill the majority of 16 in favor of the bill is not large enough to cause the government to exult, especially as it was won by the chancellor giving pledges to the agrarians and anti-Semites that will certainly give him trouble to fulfill. But the government, with reason, does exult, while its opponents fail to conceal their chagrin. Vexation and disappointment, were plainly manifested. appointment were plainly manifested throughout hostile speeches. The emperor is delighted with the passage of the bill, and rumor has it that he will confer upon Chancellor Caprivi the dig-

He was placed in the caboose, but before the train could be started another freight, also outward bound, came along and crashed into the standing cars. The men in the caboose had not time to remove the body of the injured man, barely escaping from the wreck themselves by jumping. By rare good fortune the collision did not aggavate the injuries of the victim. He was brought to the city and placed in a hospital and has somewhat improved. IN THE SILVER MINE REGION.

The Closing Down of the Mines Ha Thrown Over Five Thousand Men Out of Employment, and Robbery Is Resorted To - Barbarle Methods Employed in Which a Woman Was the Victim.

HELENA, Mon., July 17.—The closing down of the silver mines at Granite and Phillipsburg, where the granite monntain and bimetallic mines, the two greatest silver producers in the state are located, has resulted in the inanguration of a reign of terror in the two camps. Some 5,000 men have been employed in the mines and mills there and a large majority of these are of foreign birth.

When the mines first closed the miners made a run upon the banks. Many were paid their money, but one of the Phillipsburg banks, thoroughly solvent, but without enough ready cash to meet an immediate settlement, was forced to close its doors. Having got the savings in hand, they made no better use of it than to squander it. One man with a sum of nearly $200 placed it temporarily in possession of a woman ut Granite for safekeeping.

Subsequently calling for it, the woman denied all knowledge of it. Exasperated, the owner, with several companions proceeded to force the woman using barbaric methods to compel restitution. Her hands were tied, has face slashed and disfigured, and as a final resort coal oil was poured on her and the threat of burning her alive was about to be carried out. Then the woman weakened and told the hiding place of the money and recovery was effected.

Two days ago an unprotected woman named Ivy about unidnight heard a loud knocking at the door, and on opening it she was contronted by two masked men with revolvers, who demanded her money and valuables. One hundred and ninety-five dollars belonging to a man named Mitchell, who was boarding at the house, had been left with Mrs. Ivy for safekeeping. This money they compelled the woman to hand over, threatening to shoot her if she refused.

Bush of the defunct Elmira National bank has been arrested at his home here upon a warraut issued by United States Commissioner Davidson upon complaint of ex-Congressman H. H. In his affidavit upon which the warrant was issued Mrs. Rockwell alleges that when the last quarterly report of the bank was made, on May 4, the bank's overdrafts were named as $18,-612.53, when in fact, Colonel Robinson's overdraft amounted to $48,000, that on or about May 6, Mr. Bush gave to the head bookkeeper three notes amounting to $54,000, which Mr. Bush directed him to credit to Colonel Robinson's ac-

It is charged that these notes were made in New York on May 6, and were signed by unknown parties whose identity as never yet been established, that the notes were worthless and were thus transferred to Colonel Robinson's account for the purpose of deceiving and defranding the stockholders and de positors.

Mr. Bush was arraigned before United States Commissioner Davidson and pleaded not guilty to the charge, and bail in the sum of $10,000 was given. The arrest was unexpected, and has created the greatest sensation since the closing of the bank.

One Use of Mathematics.

In an offhand sketch of Professor Chrystal, one of his old pupils tells how this mathematician made his science aid him in the management of his class. The daring spirits—say thos, who were going into their father's office, and so did not look npon Chrystal as a door locked to their advancement—sought to bring sunshine into the room. Chrystal soon had the blind down on that.

To relieve the monotony, a student at the end of bench ten dropped a marble, which toppled slowly downward toward the professor. At every step it took there was a smothered guffaw, but Chrystal, who was working at the board, did not turn his head. When the marble reached the floor he said, still with his back to the class:

"Will the student at the end of bench ten, who dropped that marble, stand up?' All eyes dilated. He had counted the falls of the marble from step to step .-Chicago Post.

One of the late Leopold Morse's hobbies was the rehabilitation of the American navy, and his plan of proceeding was thoroughly characteristic. A Veteran Returns His Pension. Joseph P. Clarke, an old Union soldier of Baltimore, has astonished the members of his Grand Army post and other friends by surrendering his pension of $12 a month to the Government. His disability was in the leg. He had been suffering since the war. A perilous surgical operation a week ago removed the trouble, and Thursday Mr. Clarke sent a letter to the Commissioner of Pensions returning his voucher and declining to accept any more money from the Government.

For the Farmer.

Broshear brothers, of Charleston Bottom, are cultivating ten acres of tomatoes for the Ripley Canning Factory, for which they are to receive 332 cents a bushel. enough nitrogen, potash and phosphoric acid to equal that found in fertilizers

ANOTHER "SNIPE HUNT."

Professor Stone, the Phrenologist and Mind-Reader, the Victim this Time.

There was another "snipe hunt" last night.
This time, the boys initiated Professor

Stone, the phrenologist and mind-reader.
The Professor has been in Maysville several weeks telling of business, courtship, marriage and such things.

He also advertised a "free museum" at his rooms at Mrs. Wood's boarding house, corner of Third and Limestone. It'ls said quite a number of men have had the Professor feel the bumps on their heads and tell them of their past and future, and inform them as to the calling for which they were best suited.

But business has been a little "slack" with the Professor of late, and he announced that he would leave here to-day and go to Paris.

Yesterday a party of young men con-cluded they would initiate Mr. Stone into the mysteries of "snipe hunting." The subject was broached to him and he was in for it.

A two-horse wagon was procured from Messrs. Wells & Biggars, a supply of candles, sacks, &c., was obtained and about 9:30 o'clock last night the party, numbering twelve or fifteen, started on their "hunt." In the crowd were most of those who initlated Fred Geiske, the clerk, a month or so ago.

Mr. Charles Reed, who lives a mile or so south of town joined the party as guide. Mr. Reed knows the country well, and conducted the crowd to a point near Summitt. Here the conveyance was left, and the party footed it across the fields to a deep hollow. The nearest residence was a mile and a half away residence was a mile and a half away
The boys were all very anxious (?) to hold the sack. It was much nicer than beating the bushes and chasing up the snipe. They finally agreed, however, to let the Professor hold one of the sacks, as he was not well acquainted with the country. He was given explicit instructions to keep very quiet for awhile, and was told how to close the sack when he got in the required number of birds.

Everything having been arranged the crowd started out beating the bush, and left the Professor anxiously watching for the appearance of the "snipe."

How long he held the sack is not known. The party returned to the vehicle, and as

The party returned to the vehicle, and as they were starting home they could hear him off in the hollow a mile or so away yelling, "Here I am! I'm lost!"

The Professor got back to town about 9 o'clock this morning footsore and dusty from his tramp. He doesn't care to take any more "snipe hunts." He is very indignant at the trick played on him, and has consulted Judge Cole & Sons with a view of suing the crowd for damages.

For an evidence of the really phenomenal growth of bleyeling in this country one has only lo glance at the club fixtures published almost daily in the Herald. All over the country road and track races are scheduled months ahead, and thousands upon thousands of wheelmen take part in them. The fact that the use of the wheel is rupidly growing in favor with women, and that reputable physicians everywhere indorse the exercise as one of the most heulth-promoting for both sexes, doubtless have much to do with the sport's advancement. One thing is certain, outside of racing and baseball no pastime has taken such a hold on our health-loving people as has cycling, and for personal benefits it is superior to both of these.—New York Herald.

A Cry Comes From Europe For American

NEW YORK, July 17.-The World The farmers throughout the country

ceive inquiries concerning the forage crops.

When the news at last began to spread that Europe wanted hay, it spread with lightning rapidity. It was a situation for which thousands of wily farmers had been waiting many years. It has been their custom to send a limited quantity of hay to market in the summer and early fall, and store the rest in the hope that it would be worth $20 a ton, an increase of from $2 or $8 over usual rates. On several occasions this has happened.

Even in their wildest dreams they never hoped to get $30 a ton, and when the news that Europe was waiting for their surplus stock reached them their anxiety to supply the demand can be imagined.

Hundreds of tons of hay from Iowa,
Nebraska, Wisconsin and nearby states have been pouring into this and other seaboard cities. Tramp steamers have been loading at some of the Brooklyn wharves for several weeks and many shiploads have been landed abroad.

Still the cry comes that more is Still the cry comes that more is wanted. The fact that the first demand wanted. The fact that the first demand was not made known until several weeks after the lack of forage throughout Europe grew pressing, created considerable distress there, especially in France. In both England and France the price was frequently as high as $50 a ton. It has been reported that the lack of forage in France has necessitated the slaughter of a large number of eattle to prevent them from suffering from lack of food.

A representative of the big commission houses of Williams & Rickerson says that, judging by the way the American farmers are striving to supply the foreign demand for hay, Europe would soon have all that she needs. "All the hay in the market," he said, "is last year's crop. None of this year's hay has come in yet. The immense quantities coming here show how the farmers have been hanging on to it.

farmers have been hanging on to it. We are getting queries from farming districts in almost every section asking us how much we can sell hay for, and if we can not get more for it.

"Market men who have never hereto fore paid much attention to hay are buying it in this city from $17 to $20 a ton and sending it abroad. We have been getting $30 a ton for it abroad, and the persons to whom it is eonsigned pay the freight, which is about $10 a ton. This makes it cost them $40, and his makes it cost them $40 by the time the consumers get it the price must reach the neighborhood of $50, a phenomenal price.

"The eause of the scareity of the foreign erop of fodder is said to have been the dry weather last year. The same condition of affairs exists this year. As if they doubted this, the farmers are busy unloading all their old hay, and thousands of tons are pouring into every port where it can be shipped."

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record says: "The Chesapeake and Ohio has been developed from a road that was worth but little to one of the finest railroad properties in the world—a trunk line which at the present day has few equals in the superiority of its construction, the quality of its rolling stock, its splendid train service and the ability of its officials. It now comprises about The farmers throughout the country have been tumbling over each other during the last few months to get the hay which they have held over from last season into this and other cities for export to Europe. The occasions when American farmers have been ealled upon to supply foreign countries with hay have been so rare that this year will prove a phenomenal one in the lives of the grangers.

The first news that Europe was short of hay and that the United States were depended upon to relieve her distress reached here early in May. It did not spread rapidly and the demand was not supplied. American consuls abroad then began to inquire of the agrientural department if the hay erop was short here or if there was a lack of desire to ship hay abroad. Foreign legations in this country also began to receive inquiries concerning the forage crops.

The farmers throughout the country line which at the present day has 'few equals in the superiority of its colling stock, its splendid train service and the ability of its officials. It now comprises about 1,200 miles of road, with 330 miles of sidings, operated with nearly 300 locomotives and 12,000 passenger and freight cars. Its net earnings for the year ending June 30, 1891, were over $2,300 per mile, or 27.15 per cent. of the total earnings, while for the eleven months ending May 31, 1892. These figures tell the tale of its prosperity and the ability of its management far better than columns of description."

Some inquiries are made how to find the gold value of the silver dollar, when the price of silver is given. Multiply the market value of silver by 77½; this gives the gold value of the silver dollar. The factor 773 is the result obtained by dividing 3711, the number of grains of silver in a dollar, by 480, the number of grains in a troy ounce.—Cineinnati Tribune.
